Travel

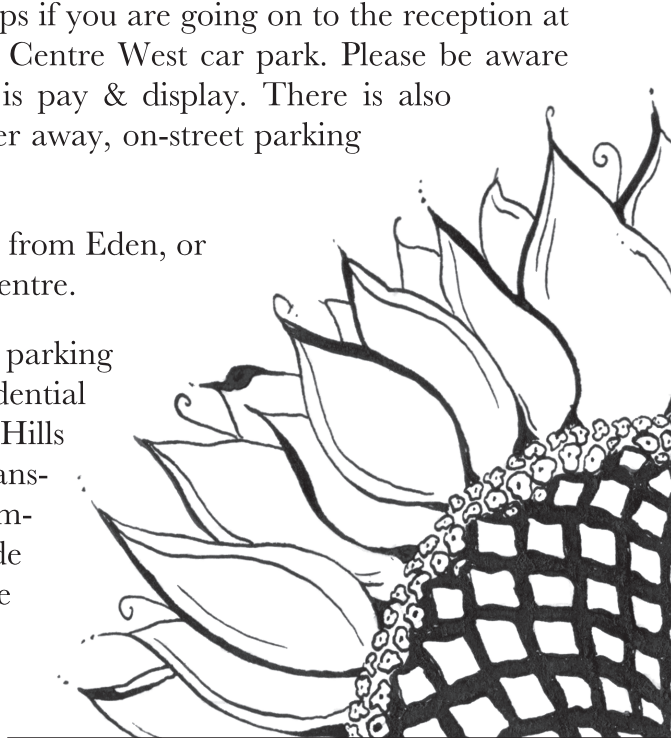

Cambridge is a historic city, but unfortunately not designed for large numbers of vehicles and nowadays often congested, so it is best to arrive by bicycle, train or bus. Eden Baptist Church is in the city centre, at 1 Fitzroy St, CB1 1ER.

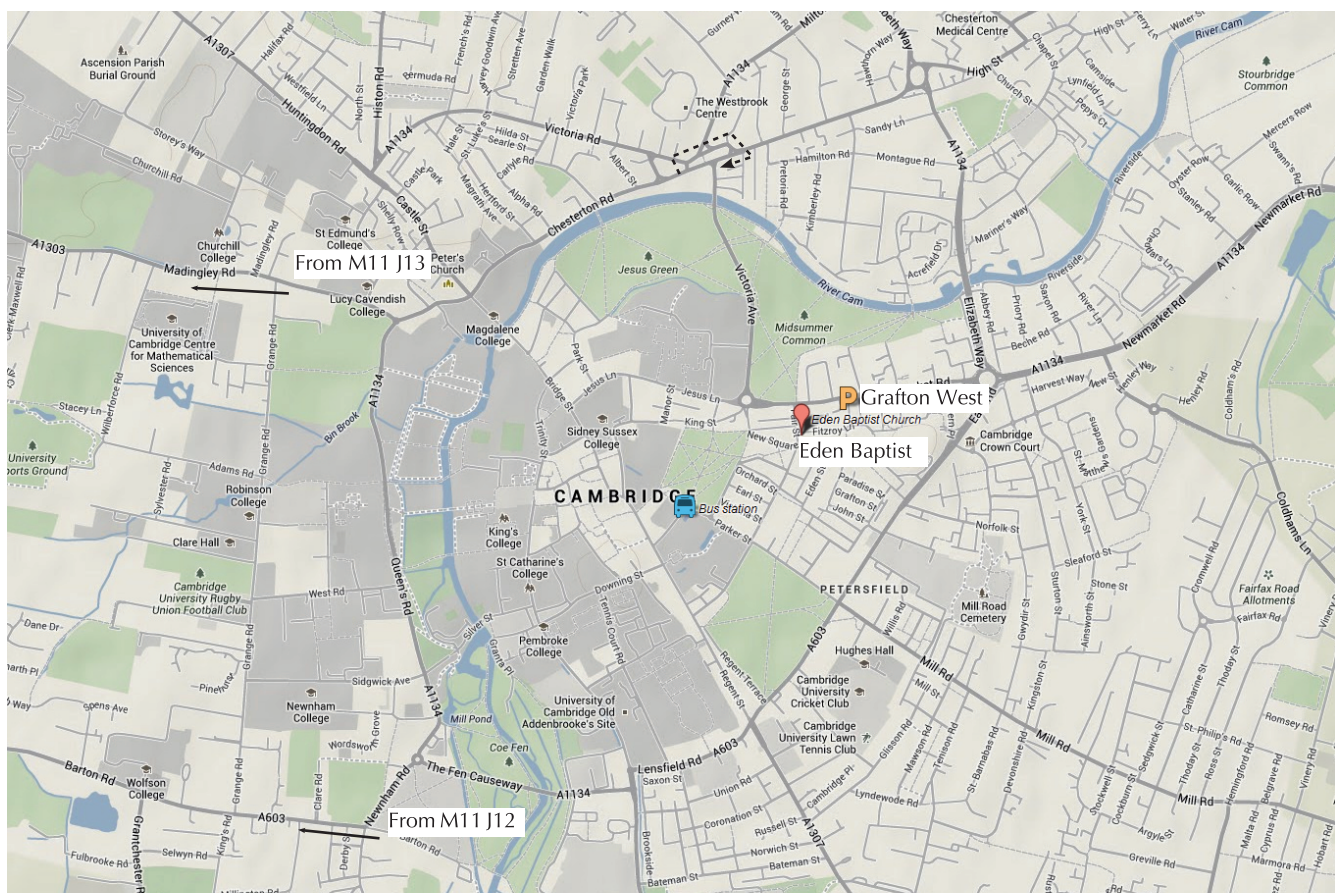

If you are coming to the service and afternoon tea, you may like to park in one of the Park & Ride carparks and take the bus to the city centre. The Drummer St bus station is about a five minute walk from Eden, and buses run very regularly.

If you would prefer to park nearer Eden, perhaps if you are going on to the reception at Homerton, the closest car park is the Grafton Centre West car park. Please be aware this may be rather busy on a Saturday, and is pay & display. There is also parking at the Park Street car park, and, further away, on-street parking on Queen's Road and West Road.

The train station is about a twenty minute walk from Eden, or you can get the citi 1 or citi 3 bus into the city centre.

At Homerton College there should be ample parking for guests, but if there is not enough space, residential side roads can be used instead. The address is Hills Road, CB2 8PH. To get there with public transport, take the citi 1 or citi 7 bus from the Drummer Street bus station and get off outside Homerton on Hills Road. Taxis can also be found on a nearby rank on St Andrew's Street.

Accommodation

Cambridge offers a variety of hotels, B&Bs and travel lodges. Guests may also stay overnight on Saturday 21st September at Homerton College, which has single rooms available on a bed-only basis. Details and booking may be found at www.homertonconference.com/bedandbreakfast.html, or 01223 747218, quoting the promotional code KX 13015.

Gift list

Most of all we would like you to join us in Cambridge to celebrate our marriage.
